With all the rumble of an old V8 Holden, Barrel Dawg are known for their unique music. They are storytellers, a bit rootsie, a tad swampy, somewhat mountain style gritty blues with a hint of dark country. Together, they are dead-set musical chaos and their objective is to ensure everyone is having a rip snorting good time!

BARREL DAWG

Blues with Bite

Barrel Dawg brings the best of blues, country, folk and rock n' roll to every show!

This interesting bunch of misfits will have you on your feet with their gritty, rootsy sound, stirring up a foot stomp'n frenzy. Whether it is the Barrel Dawg dynamic trio performing or the full band experience, they will always leave you howling for more. From Swampy Cigar Box with slide to face paced hillbilly ditties with call-outs to their crazy percussionist who wears his tambourine as a collar, Barrel Dawg's pack of strays will entertain you from go to whoa.

B' Dawg (Aka Mella) has a passion for unique instruments like Cigar Box Guitars, Banjo and Slide Guitar. She is inspired by the raw soul exhibited by bluesmen such as Son House, Blind Willie Johnson and modern artist like Seasick Steve infused with her own improvisation to create unique folky blues & roots music with the simplicity of old blues storytelling. She also uses a combination of finger picking and slide methods with a little distortion to deliver their big, dirty, swampy blues sound!

Mongrel keeps the engine revving with big bold Bass whilst B-Dawg plays, sings and stomps! He understands the principles of good blues basslines and provides some solid rhythm, as dependable as the lifeguards at Bondi! To form a trio, 'Muttley' joins as the groups rhythm master, and he shakes, rattles and hits stuff unleashing a bit of creative percussive mayhem to make each performance memorable. Muttley also fattens their sound with smooth vocal harmonies call-outs and the odd Dad Joke to ensure everyone is having a rocking' good time.

Jed Dawg drives home each performance with those big foot stomping beats on the drums! He is the groups playful pup from up in the hills who brings the banging sound that makes this group rock!

One persons disability is another's superpower! Barrel Dawg are an inclusive group, with multiple band members overcoming the challenges of living with disabilities.
